A MarketFaith Ministries One-Day Biblical Seminary is a focused, intensive training session designed to equip everyday Christians with a systematic, comprehensive foundation for understanding and applying a biblical worldview in daily life. Participants can expect to learn to interpret life through Scripture, engage with cultural issues, and effectively share or defend their faith.

Why Should I Attend?

Did you know that every Christian is called to serve as a minister? It's true! Whether you're a teacher, mechanic, parent, or student, God has entrusted you with a mission field right in your current environment. However, the challenge is that many of us feel unready to share our faith confidently or to respond to difficult questions about Christianity.

What You'll Learn in One Day

A One Day Worldview Seminary covers seven essential topics every Christian should understand:

- Worldview Basics - How your beliefs shape everything
- Essential Christian Doctrine - The core truths of our faith
- Missions and Evangelism - Sharing Jesus naturally
- Ethics and Morality - Living out biblical values
- Apologetic - Answering challenges to faith
- Devotional Life - Growing closer to God daily
- Other Religions - Understanding what others believe

Why This Matters for You

In today's world, people have tough questions about faith. Your coworkers, neighbors, and family members need to see Christianity that's both genuine and intelligent. A One Day Worldview Seminary gives you confidence to engage in conversations about faith and live out your calling wherever God has placed you.

Worldview One-Day
Seminary Leader
Freddy Davis

Freddy Davis is the founder and President of MarketFaith Ministries, specializing in worldview and its practical effects. He earned a degree in Communications from Florida State University, followed by an MDiv and a DMin from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Freddy has a diverse background, including roles as a senior pastor, interim pastor, and church planter. He has also owned a speaker's bureau and worked as a speaker and trainer for corporations and associations. Moreover, he spent nearly twelve years as an international missionary (IMB) in Japan and, after the fall of the Iron Curtain, five years in Latvia, a former Soviet republic.

Dr. Davis has written numerous books and training materials, including The Truth Mirage, I Stand Amazed in the Presence, Bridges (co-authored with Tal Davis), Liberalism vs. Conservatism, Rules for Christian Radicals, and others. He resides in Tallahassee, Florida, with his wife, Deborah, and their son, Ken.

The King No One Expected

Sometimes we speak, or even shout, the truth without realizing how right we are. That’s exactly what happened on the first Palm Sunday.

Jesus entered Jerusalem riding a young, humble donkey rather than a prize-winning stallion. The crowd responded with joy, shouting, “Hosanna! Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord!” They waved palm branches, representing peace, and acclaimed Jesus as their king.

Was He a king? Jesus didn’t deny it. When the Pharisees told him to silence the crowd, he responded, “I tell you, if they keep quiet, the stones will cry out.”

Later, Pilate, the Roman governor, sarcastically remarked, “Here is your king.” The chief priests responded angrily, shouting, “We have no king but Caesar!”

When Pilate handed Jesus over for crucifixion, he made a final remark to the angry crowd. John 19:19 mentions that he ordered a sign to be placed above the cross, inscribed in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek, which read: “Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews.”

The chief priests asked for the sign to be changed, but Pilate declined. “What I have written, I have written,” he replied.

Was Jesus a king? The witnesses of His resurrection understood the answer. In Acts 17:7, early believers were accused of “saying there is another king, Jesus.” The book of Revelation anticipates the day when all creation will recognize the truth: “The Lamb will triumph ... for He is Lord of lords and King of kings.” — Revelation 17:14.

Puzzle!

This Bible verse teaches an important lesson about how we should treat others — and why.
